

6.S196: Principles and Practice of Assistive Technology
Human Subjects Training, 3PM, Monday, September 17, 2012

Objectives:

- Understand the ethical obligations of research with human subjects

Activities

- Take an online human subjects training course

Deliverables

- Gradebook or certificate of completion, due before lab on Wednesday, September 19 (3pm)

In this lab activity, you will take MIT's online human subjects training course, in order to prepare you to interact with human subjects.

If you have already taken the online training course for a UROP or some other MIT class, then you don't need to take it again. Just hand in your certificate of completion or some other evidence that you passed. The training site includes a list of all people who have passed the course, so if you're not sure whether you've done it, you can scan that list for your name and date of completion.

Instructions for Monday, September 17:

1. Go to <http://web.mit.edu/committees/couhes/humansubjects.shtml> and follow one of the links to the CITI site, depending on your status:

For MIT Faculty, staff, or students: Please log into the CITI site via the MIT portal. You will need an MIT personal certificate for authentication. If you do not have a valid MIT certificate, you can get one here.

For non MIT personnel: Please log into the University of Miami CITI site. When registering for the course, select 'Massachusetts Institute of Technology - Affiliates' as your institution.

2. After logging into the site, choose the Human Subjects training for Social & Behavioral Research Investigators (see image on following page). Do not select the Responsible Conduct of Research course. You aren't being asked to do the RCR course as part of this lab.

1. Human Subjects

For new trainees requiring IRB courses, select the group most appropriate to your research activity.
Choose one answer

☐ Biomedical Research Investigators:

☒ Social & Behavioral Research Investigators:

☐ Data or Specimens Only Research:

☐ IRB Members: The purpose of this group is for reference purposes. It should not be selected to achieve CME/CEU Eligibility credits or completion reports. You may change your Learner Group status later to "IRB Reference Resource" for ongoing access and resource use of all CITI modules.

☐ N/A

2. Select the group for which you have previously completed an institutionally approved Basic Course in the Protection of Human Research Subjects.

☒ No, thanks.

3. After choosing the Human Subjects course, you should see the list of course modules below:

CR# 8757508: Social & Behavioral Research Investigators Gradebook

To pass this course you must complete all required modules with a combined score of 90. Your current score is 0.

Required Modules	Date Complete	Score
Complete The Integrity Assurance Statement before beginning the course.
Introduction	Incomplete
History and Ethical Principles - SBR	Incomplete
Defining Research with Human Subjects - SBR	Incomplete
The Regulations and The Social and Behavioral Sciences - SBR	Incomplete
Assessing Risk in Social and Behavioral Sciences - SBR	Incomplete
Informed Consent - SBR	Incomplete
Privacy and Confidentiality - SBR	Incomplete
Research with Prisoners - SBR	Incomplete
Research with Children - SBR	Incomplete
Research in Public Elementary and Secondary Schools - SBR	Incomplete
International Research - SBR	Incomplete
Internet Research - SBR	Incomplete
Research and HIPAA Privacy Protections	Incomplete
Vulnerable Subjects - Research Involving Workers/Employees	Incomplete
Conflicts of Interest in Research Involving Human Subjects	Incomplete
Massachusetts Institute of Technology	Incomplete

You're expected to complete the first seven modules, as shown in the image below (from Introduction up to and including Privacy & Confidentiality). You should get at least a 90% overall. You can repeat a quiz as many times as you want, however, so there's really no reason why you shouldn't get 100. When you're done, your gradebook should look something like this:

Vulnerable Subjects - Research Involving Workers/Employees	Incomplete
Conflicts of Interest in Research Involving Human Subjects	Incomplete
Massachusetts Institute of Technology	Incomplete

You can also go on to complete the rest of the course, if you want, which will be useful for you if you're planning to do a research project involving human subjects at some point in your MIT career.

Submission Instructions
